

Water & Child friendly garden features.

As we enter into what is likely to be another hot dry summer, people are looking for water saving ideas for the home.

Homes that want to have a water feature but are concerned about child safety or water consumption will be pleased to know about the new range of GRC (Glass reinforced concrete) water features.

These unique and exclusive water features (10 different styles available) are fully self-contained with an internal sump making them safe to use in areas where children are present.

As the water is housed under a protective cover, evaporation is minimised. The fibreglass that is incorporated into the concrete construction reduces the porosity of the water features thus further reducing water loss. Reclaimed water can be used in the water feature as it will not effect the operation of the pump or the appearance of the water feature.

Décor Garden also has a range of top quality imported pots and offer distributors water saving advice and options to provide their clients.
